Remorse, Regret, Guilt

Larry Ray Hafley

Even after you have been forgiven, have you ever felt the sting of remorse and regret for your sins? Do gnawing feelings of guilt lay heavy upon your heart? Sadly, at times, perhaps, we have all felt such things. David did (Psa. 51:3). Paul did (1 Cor. 15:9). When sharp pangs of memory stick and stab us with their burning prongs of pain, it is good for us to hear the thirst quenching, healing, helping words of David.

"Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who forgiveth all thine iniquities.... The Lord is merciful and gracious, slow to anger, and plenteous in mercy.... He hath not dealt with us after our sins; nor rewarded us according to our iniquities. For as the heaven is high above the earth, so great is his mercy toward them that fear him. As far as the east is from the west, so far hath he removed our transgressions from us. Like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear him. For he knoweth our frame; he remembereth that we are dust" (Psa. 103:2-14).

The next time you are down in spirit let his Spirit lift you up and anoint you with "the oil of gladness." Breathe in the fragrant aroma of righteousness, peace, and joy. Be confident and assured in the comfort of his love and kindness. All his treasures of mercy and acceptance are yours through faith in him who loved us and gave himself for us.
