New Year’s Resolutions

Guillermo Alvarez

A common custom by many of us at the beginning of every year is to set worthy goals for the upcoming year, such as “save money”, “lose weight” “start or finish a project” etc. Although these goals are noble and have their proper role in our life, let me suggest a few spiritual resolutions that have a greater benefit and a greater reward, eternal life (Col. 3:2).

Be resolved to study more the word of God. The apostle Paul wrote “Study to shew thyself approved unto God...” (2 Tim 2:15). In an effort to help us achieve this goal, there is a schedule printed that can help us keep track of our reading progress and help us read the Bible in chronological order as much as possible. “Like newborn babes, long for the pure milk of the word, that by it you may grow in respect to salvation” (1 Peter 2:2)

Be resolved to involve yourself more in the work of the church. At this time we are in need for teachers in the children’s classes, but there are also many other areas in which we can participate in serving the saints. We may not all be able to lead singing, but there are plenty of other equally important areas to use our abilities. Remember what the apostle Paul wrote “from whom the whole body, being fitted and held together by that which every joint supplies, according to the proper working of each individual part, causes the growth of the body for the building up of itself in love.” (Eph 4:16).

Be resolved to help someone come to know the gospel. We have plenty of room to grow in numbers, and there is plenty of people yet to know the gospel. The first Christians saw an opportunity to share the gospel everywhere they went. “Those who were scattered went everywhere preaching the word.” (Acts 8:4). Let this year be the year we will need a bigger building!
